Foreword

Our Heritage

As students here at Stephen F. Austin, we have found ourselves enjoying the heritage which Nacogdoches shares with all of its company.
The Stone Fort Yearbook Staff would like to share this heritage with you . . .

The Indian Mound, 516 North Mound Street.

It is believed that the Mound Civilization lived in this area before the Indians. These mounds may have been burial places. In the past they have lined either side of Mound Street, this one, now, is the only one left of this Mound Civilization.

The Old Stone Fort

It is believed that The Old Stone Fort was originally built by Antonio Gil Y'Barbo in 1779, to be used as a trading post. It was originally located at the corner of Main and Fredonia. It was reconstructed as part of the Texas Centennial Program for the Texas Revolution, in 1936. It was then placed on our campus, using the stones from the original fort. "The fort has been held and garrisoned at various times by Spain, Mexico, The Republic of Texas, The Confederacy, and The United States."

Hoya Memorial Library

This library and museum was originally the home of Adolphus Sterne. Sam Houston was baptized into the Roman Catholic Church in this home in 1833, with Mrs. Sterne as his Godmother.

The Boys' House

A type of guest house in back of the Adolphus Sterne Home, part of the Hoya Museum.

The Sam Houston Room

This room in the library contains relics and remembrances of every phase of Nacogdoches history.

Old Nacogdoches University

This University was chartered by the Republic of Texas in 1845, the only building chartered by the Republic which is still standing. It is now located in the center of the Nacogdoches High School Campus.

Christ Episcopal Church

Christ Church was the first Protestant Church building in the City of Nacogdoches. It was constructed in 1849 on the Frost Thorne homestead. The Church is now located at the corner of Mound Street and Starr Avenue.

A beautiful campus combined with lovely Nacogdoches homes and landmarks provides Stephen F. Austin State College with a setting equal to any in the Southern United States.

An ecstatic Nancy is smothered with cheering well-wishers as she receives the news of her election as SFA Homecoming Queen for 1964.

A highlight of the Homecoming half-time activities was the skydive of Gary Ward, one of the three parachutists sponsored by Alphi Phi Omega Fraternity for the crowd's entertainment.

The Phi Delta Theta Victory Bells, which are present at all school athletic events and pep rallies, were tolling for a victory at the Homecoming Bonfire.

Ellen Moore, Delta Sigma Phi duchess, precedes the Delta Sigma Phi float through the Homecoming Parade. The driver of her car is Budgy Romines.

The Theta Chi cannon is a tradition at Lumberjack football games.

The maddening crowd above is one segment of the estimated 2000 students who scrambled for an early registration time card. Number one in line is said to have arrived at 4 A.M. of the first day time cards were issued. The crowds did not disperse until approximately 12:30 P.M.

Students stand in one of the many lines involved in the confusing process of registration.

Dean Samford and Mrs. Stalling check over the final spring schedule before distributing it to the students.

Registration week finds the college center bookstore humming with activity. Spookie Frye scans one of the suggested texts for the oncoming semester.

The college center bookstore offers the students a wide variety of not only school, but also personal supplies. Cashier Mark Brown watches as Judy Clancy, Sandy Butler, Karla Simmons, and Andy Barbish make their purchases.

The reference room of the library is a favorite study spot for students.

Dorm mates are always handy to consult before the big test. Randy Parker and Don Craig are studying in their dormitory room.

Students gain practical experience through the up-to-date laboratory facilities offered by Stephen F. Austin's science department.

Several scholarships currently are provided forestry department. Dr. Steen looks on as scholarships are presented to Herschel Fields, Jimmy Watson, and Mickey Jeans.

Dr. and Mrs. Steen entertain the faculty and the students at an annual Christmas tea. The daughters of some of the faculty are admiring the Christmas tree which decorated the Student Center Ballroom for the occasion.

Jane Henderson and Bob Bass are admiring the crown to be worn by the 1964 Homecoming Queen. The crown was displayed in a College Center showcase for the week preceding the festivities.

The Phi Delta Theta Fraternity sets aside an afternoon each fall to welcome incoming freshman lovelies to S.F.A. Shown here, Margie Aycock, Linda Jones and Patricia Lane, Bob Smith looks on.

"Speak no evil, hear no evil, see no evil," suggests the antics of Jimmy Farrell, Andy Barbash, and Betty Hargrove at the annual Pi Epsilon Mu Cornhusking Bee. The event has become a tradition of "the college among the Pines."

Who's the fastest husker in school? Mrs. Warner watches as Tony Peacock and Tommy Hornsby compete for the title in one of the contests taking place at the Cornhusking Bee.

The Dance Committee of the College Center plans for the enjoyment of students with dancing feet. The dances are varying from semi-formal holiday spirited dances featuring a band to informal weeknight dances with a bright neon jukebox blaring forth the latest hits.

The Drama Department's annual fall production of ten outstanding one-act plays was presented the first week of November. These contribute to the cultural atmosphere of the college while furnishing practical experience for the thespians.

One of the more outstanding productions was "The Ugly Duckling," by A. A. Milne. Brad Stratton and Jimmy Tucker are the actors pictured here.

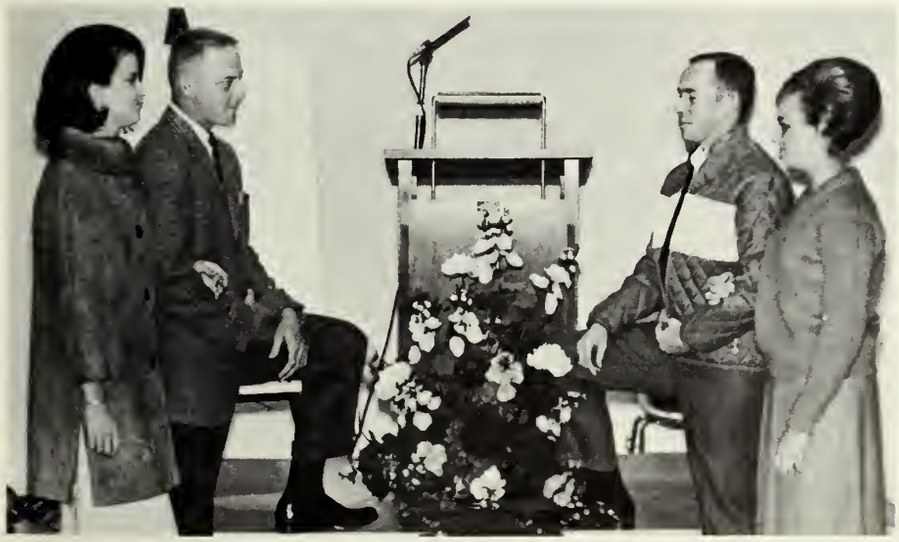
Hootenanies are a favorite entertainment with the students at S.F.A. Jim Rathall delighted an audience seated on the floor of the College Center Ballroom with his parody on "Big John."

The Hootenanies featured comedy teams, serious folk singers, western music, and "sing alongs." Here, female vocalist Sue Pace belts out a ballad to the accompaniment of Jim Rathall.

The well-known Butler sisters, Nolanda, Alice, and Mary Lou have entertained S.F.A. students for such activities as Religious Emphasis Week hootenany and the College Beauty Pageant.

A Spring Fashion Show was presented by the Fidèle Social Club. Displaying the latest in co-ed fashions are Pat Williams, Sara Bolton, Diana Horton, Majel Burke, Sandy Langford, and Nancy Standley.



The Hospitality Committee of the College Center presented a fall fashion show featuring both male and female fashions. The models were chosen as representatives of all the fraternities and sororities on campus. Pictured here are Karen Shunk, Chi Omega; Joe Ray English, Pi Kappa Alpha; Ben Moore, Phi Delta Theta, and Gail Myers, Fidèle.

The Fine Arts Committee schedules art exhibits to be presented including the works of many famous impressionists. Displaying one of the works are Linda Jones, Mary Beth Foley, and Jim Strickland, Program Director of Student Activities.

A torch light parade from the Griffith Memorial Auditorium to the Shelton Gymnasium preceded the pep rally for our first conference game. The Alpha Phi Omegas surrounded the Lumberjack that accompanies them to all athletic events.

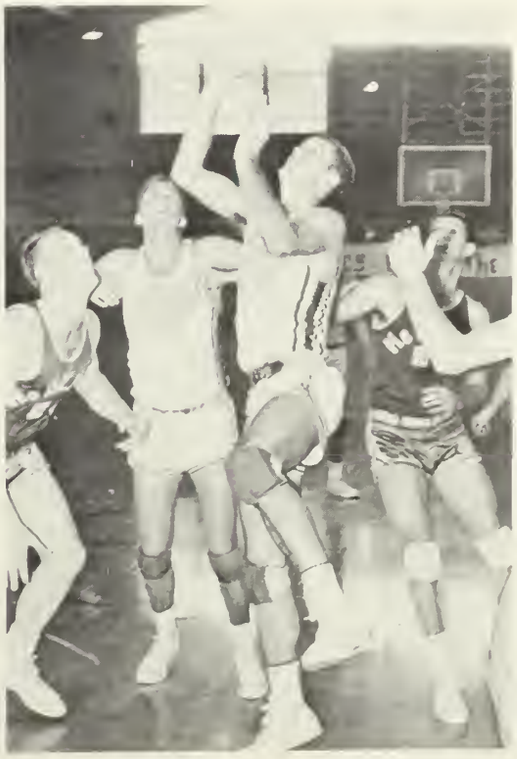
The letters "A.P.O." blazed brightly at the edge of the annual bonfire which precedes the Homecoming game.

Kay Sitton and Joe Sanders rode through the parade on the Pi Kappa Alpha fire truck.

Spirit soared high at the Homecoming game between S.F.A. and Sam Houston State College. Fans, students, and exes packed the stands under an unseasonably broiling sun.

L. H. Chandler rides high on the shoulders of fraternity brothers Fred Keel, Budgie Romines and Joe Derrick after completing his last season as S.F.A.'s star end.

The trees at S.F.A. are in constant use displaying signs. Bob Bass and Diane Holcomb put up a spirit sign in front of Dorm Seven before the S.F.A.-Texas A&I football game.



The Lumberjacks won their first Lone Star Conference Championship since 1956 and advanced to the National tournament in Kansas City. Here Jake Rodge and Willie Schaceral are going up for a rebound against McNeese.

The signs that aren't stationary are carried or displayed on the backs and sides of cars. Kay Hughes carried this sign to help her sorority sister Nancy Standley to be elected Homecoming Queen.

The Alpha Phi Omega Service Fraternity assists the Student Congress in holding the campus elections. In 1964, our school had one of the highest percentages of students voting in the Texas Intercollegiate School Association. Robert Boleman looks on as Karen Hawkins casts her ballot.

The excitement reaches its peak during the counting of the ballots. Alpha Phi Omegas, Guppy Gladstone and David Patterson mark votes while Secretary of the Student Congress, Suzanne Hightower, calls out the votes. Marty Schmidt, representing one of the candidates, watches the proceedings.

Rush Week is held each fall and each spring at S.F.A. Jeanie Gipson is displaying the Delta Zeta scrapbook to Ginger Straughn at the Delta Zeta tea during Spring Rush.

President and Mrs. Steen here display one of their beautifully cut crystal pieces inside the President's home. They often entertain students, faculty, and interested townspeople in their home.

The last phase of Rush Week is composed of informal parties where the sororities and fraternities lavishly entertain rushees. Karen Williams and Bettye Williams are performing a skit at the Fidèle Rush Party.

Assistant Editor of the Yearbook, Darlene Taylor, has just sold a yearbook to Linda Robinson.

The Vista Inn is a warm and friendly gathering place for everyone. Students flock in between classes for conversation and snacks.

John Bell returns a serve at the Games Area's table tennis facilities. This spacious area provides leisure time entertainment in the form of billiards, ping pong, and a card playing area.

The Chimes Music Listening Lounge affords many hours of enjoyment for music lovers and a varied selection of magazines. Bill Neff, Edward Irwin, and Benny Provost are enjoying its relaxing atmosphere.

Students surround the Information Desk, the nerve center of the College Center. The Travel Log, a student directory, and the central public address system are three of its many services.

A forestry lab group is at work in the college's Experimental Forest. Forestry students gain practical experience in the two Experimental Forests in Nacogdoches and the Summer Camp at a nearby State Park.

Lumberjack Day is the Friday before Homecoming. Students Ellen Carlson and Jody Sorrey wear the traditional Lumberjack clothes.

The females get a certain advantage in the annual Pike Egg Throw. Susan Dickens stands directly in front of Pi Kappa Alpha pledge Bill Allison to be sure she doesn't miss.

At least once a year "old man winter" visits the S. F. A. campus. Excitement rides high as everyone dons their warmest clothes to romp in the snow.

Come rain or shine — mostly rain at S. F. A. — students must continue to take the daily trudge to classes.

The fountain behind the College Center attracts much attention. Barbara Barnes and Pat Stewart have stopped off to play in its sparkling waters.

From left, Don Allen, Pam Hooker, Kathaleen Kraning, try their hands at the northern sport of "snowball fighting." The "annual" snow at S. F. A. always captures the interest of every student. Time from class and schoolwork must be taken to play in the snow.

"King of the Kampus," Tuffy vigilantly surveys his kingdom. He wanders at will about the campus, but in cold weather he prefers the warmth of the College Center.

Though a friend to all the students, Tuffy can ignore their presence at will. He is not easily aggravated, and has even been seen with a cigar stuck in his distainful mouth.

S. F. A. hosts an annual invitational basketball tournament for Texas high schools. Displaying the trophies in front of Shelton Gymnasium are Ellen Carlson and Linda Jones.

Even the dorm steps can be used for studying. Larry Brown and Cathie Heaney were busy at work until their canine friend interrupted them.

The new sport of "sidewalk surfing," captivated the interest of all ages, young and old. Joy Tolby, S. F. A. freshman, is trying her skill at the sport.

The hours of sleep for many college students are few and far between. Therefore, Joe Rose feels it necessary to take time out for a short nap on the railing of the Fine Arts building as Lynn Clark and Leona Rush look on.
